

I have been a lover of all kinds of music my entire life. For as long as I can remember, different genres of music were being played in different parts of my home. My mom listened to Elvis, Frank Sinatra, The Supremes, and loved the old classic songs from the 50's. My dad was a country fan all the way, so I grew up listening to Merle Haggard, Tom T. Hall, Tammy Wynette, Charley Pride, and Johnny Cash.

My brother, Jimmy, introduced me to the Beatles, who I adore. Just one look at Paul McCartney and his eyes, I was completely smitten. Jimmy listened to The Rolling Stones, and Three Dog Night, just to name a few. My sister loved Barry Manilow and the Beach Boys, and I added to the mix, David Cassidy and my beloved Osmonds. In my high school years, I absolutely loved The Who. Go figure.

When I first became a Christian, I loved listening to Amy Grant, Michael W. Smith, Wayne Watson, 4 Him, and groups like Phillips, Craig, & Dean. I loved Carmen, Petra, Steven Curtis Chatman, as well as so many others. I have been collecting my favorites over the years, mostly in iTunes. And now, I've discovered Pandora!

I know there are other music apps out there to choose from, but Pandora has become my happy place, music wise. You can pick your favorite artist, and Pandora offers for you to listen to their own music station. I love We Are Messengers, For King & Country, Lauren Daigle, Mercy Me and Casting Crowns. If you choose one of these I listed, your almost guaranteed to be able to hear the others on the same station. It is awesome.

For the last year, I have been listening to the 'station' of one of my favorite musicians, Rich Mullins. I can't tell you how much I have enjoyed these songs, and often songs are played that I haven't heard since I was a baby Christian. I've also been introduced to artists I didn't really know about back then, but I adore them now. When I'm stressed or need some good Jesus Music, this is where I go.

I had many things I could have written about this week, but I just feel like sharing some good Jesus music with you. I've selected some of my favorite artists, and a few of their favorite songs. I hope you'll take the time to listen. Really good stuff.

May God bless you this week, and don't be afraid to turn up the volume.

Blessings,

Lisa Jo
